A. Course Objectives
This course is designed to introduce students to main macroeconomic concepts and familiarize students with the application of these concepts to the modern economy. Students will comprehend how macroeconomic performance is monitored by learning the measurement of GDP and economic growth; students will observe the role of the financial sector; students will understand the reasons for macroeconomic fluctuations; and students will grasp both fiscal and monetary policies. There is an emphasis on comparing and contrasting different markets: the goods market, the labor market, the loanable funds market and the money market.

This course is required for economics and some non-economics majors but it is useful for any area of study.

B. Course Organization
The class is in lecture format. However, students are encouraged to participate and ask questions. I use Power Point slides, which will be posted on Canvas before each class. We will also solve problems in class to practice and these questions will also be posted on Canvas.

C. Course Requirements and Textbook
There are four assignments and four tests for this class. There is also an in-class, closed-book final exam. The final exam is scheduled on December, 15th at 8:00 by the Registrar’s Office. If there are any conflicts, see me in the beginning of the semester.

Assignments 40% (10 percent each), Tests 40% (10 percent each), Final Exam 20%

Assignment # 1 and Test # 1: Chapters 1, 2, 3, 4
Assignment # 2 and Test # 2: Chapters 5, 6
Assignment # 3 and Test # 3: Chapters 7, 8, 10
Assignment # 4 and Test # 4: Chapters 12, 13, 14
There are no required textbooks for this class. However, students are required to purchase Pearson’s MyEconLab to do the online homework assignments and tests. The students have the option to buy the online questions only (MyEconLab), or online questions that come with e-text, or online questions with printed text, or online questions with a 3-hole punch copy. We will have an expert from Pearson on the first day of class to explain how to buy MyEconLab from the website, if students prefer not to get it from the bookstore, and how to create an account in a few minutes.
